HOA BUZZ WORDS

COLA - stands for Commission on Office and Laboratory Accreditation. As a COLA-certified laboratory our team is dedicated to improving patient care with accreditation and continuing education.

Our medical laboratory scientists are licensed to perform clinical laboratory testing by New York State and nationally by the American Society for Clinical Pathology. It's with this training, that we assist HOA physicians with patient treatment.

From the time your tube of blood is filled and you leave the chair in our phlebotomy department, our lab is hard at work making sure your tests are run correctly and in the best possible manner. We are also the quiet team member in the room during each and every bone marrow procedure.

So, the next time you are visiting the lab, feel free to ask about the science performed to get results that enhance your care!
